YEAR IN REVIEW

AGO Art Gallery
of Ontario

Message from the President and the Director

Throughout the 2014–15 fiscal year, the AGO explored exciting new horizons to bring people together with art. We created new perspectives on established artists, we introduced emerging artists to new audiences and we experimented with digital technology to expand our connections around the world. Over the course of the year, 789,121 visitors came through our doors to see, experience and understand the world in new ways.

We engaged the public with artists from the 16th century through to the present day, showing their work through the lens of our lives and times. We explored Michelangelo's struggle with failure; the impact of war on Henry Moore and Francis Bacon in their creation of human figures; and the reaction of Jean-Michel Basquiat to social injustice. We honoured the legacy of Canadian icon Alex Colville by exploring his continuing impact on popular contemporary culture, and we re-examined our nation's history through the works of contemporary Anishinaabe artists.

We shared our collection with the public in original ways, encouraging visitors to create personal interactions. Our Art as Therapy exhibition profiled works along the themes of sex, money, politics, love and nature, and invited visitors to participate in the discussion via interactive screens. Our AGO People's Choice invited the public to submit their favourite work via Instagram to identify the Top 10 of our collection. The exhibition Memory Unearthed: The Lodz Ghetto Photographs of Henryk Ross enabled us to share more than 200 compelling images of this dark era of 20th-century history, and we are now able to share all the images from this collection with the world through a specially designed “teaching” website.

The encouraging of emerging artists continued to be a focus and was made possible through unique partnerships. This was the inaugural year for the Aimia | AGO Photography Scholarship Program for students working toward their bachelor's degree of fine arts in photography. We also partnered with The Michaëlle Jean Foundation to launch the 4th Wall Youth Solidarity Project. This groundbreaking initiative focused around a national digital arts competition, inviting youth aged 14 to 30 to express themselves on the theme “Solidarity with Canada's Two-Spirited and LGBTTIQQ Communities.”

As always, we are grateful for the ongoing support of the Province of Ontario, the City of Toronto and the Canada Council for the Arts. We are also very thankful to the many AGO donors and members for their sustained commitment. In 2014–15, we celebrated the highest level of AGO membership in our history with 101,100 members. This combined public-private sector support will enable the AGO to grow and strengthen for years to come.

Highlights of the Year

APRIL 1, 2014 – MARCH 31, 2015

APRIL 2014

- Two giants of 20th-century British art are brought together for the exhibition Francis Bacon and Henry Moore: Terror and Beauty. Organized by the AGO in collaboration with the Ashmolean Museum at the University of Oxford, England, the exhibition features more than 130 works portraying unforgettable images of the human figure.
- The AGO hosts 1,900 art lovers at MASSIVE 10, the 10th anniversary of the Gallery's annual Massive Party fundraising event. Artwork by Katie Bethune-Leamen, Bruno Billio, Jorden Blue Doody & David James Doody, Randy Grskovic, Sean Martindale, Hazel Meyer, Talwst and Artistic Director Justin Broadbent is created exclusively for this special anniversary. More than $300,000 is raised to support the AGO's exhibitions and education programs.
- The AGO celebrates National Volunteer Week with a program of events exclusively for Gallery volunteers, with behind-the-scenes tours, talks with mountmakers and interpretive planners and tours of local galleries.

MAY 2014

- The AGO collaborates with British philosopher Alain de Botton, and philosopher and art theorist John Armstrong to explore the question "How can art address issues that engage us all?" in the innovative exhibition Art as Therapy. Works from the AGO's collection are selected for a series of installations that examine five universal themes—sex, money, politics, love and nature.
- Vintage photographs by some of the most notable artists in the history of photography are revealed as the AGO invites the public to explore the recently acquired Malcolmson Collection, featuring works from the 1840s and onward.
- The exhibition Scott McFarland: Snow, Shacks, Streets, Shrubs opens, bringing together more than 40 works by this internationally acclaimed Toronto-based photographer, including his poignant Repatriation series chronicling the return of fallen soldiers to Canada from Afghanistan. The exhibition is organized by the AGO and co-presented with the Scotiabank CONTACT Photography Festival.
- Mother's Day is a special celebration at the AGO, with a festive brunch in FRANK Restaurant, a Victorian-style tea in The Grange and family artmaking activities.
- The AGO hosts a day of panels, workshops, tours and talks on the theme of "Art & Ideas: Making Provocative Histories" as part of the Berkshire Conference on the History of Women, known as Big Berks. Held every three years, this is the world's largest conference on the history of women, gender and sexuality.

JUNE 2014

- Organized in collaboration with the Ryerson Image Centre and in celebration of WorldPride 2014, the AGO opens the exhibition Fan the Flames: Queer Positions in Photography, exploring queer identity and the play of gender in photography and video. Historical and contemporary works by more than 20 Canadian and international artists are drawn from the AGO photography collection and private collections.
- The theme for the June First Thursday program is a celebration of all things Canadian, with a focus on the AGO's collection of Canadian art. With a headlining performance by Canadian rock band Sloan, the night features artists creating one-night-only interventions throughout the Canadian collection, plus custom-made opportunities for visitors to make their own Canadian art. Now in its third year, the AGO's First Thursday program, with special activities on the first Thursday evening of each month, is one of the most popular draws to the AGO.

- The AGO teams up with The Michaëlle Jean Foundation to host a Youth Solidarity Forum as part of the 4th Wall Youth Solidarity Project. This groundbreaking initiative includes a national Digital Arts Competition for youth to express themselves on the theme "Solidarity with Canada's Two-Spirited and LGBTTIQQ Communities." The works of six finalists are displayed at the AGO, and an online vote declares Vancouver-based artist and migrant-rights activist Pablo Muñoz as the winner.

- The powerful exhibition Before and after the Horizon: Anishinaabe Artists of the Great Lakes opens. Co-organized by the Art Gallery of Ontario and the National Museum of the American Indian, the exhibition features artworks by leading modern and contemporary artists, including Norval Morrisseau, Bonnie Devine, Robert Houle, Keesic Douglas, Michael Belmore, Daphne Odjig and others, providing an opportunity to reconsider traditional presentations of Canadian history.

- Acclaimed contemporary artist Geoffrey Farmer debuts an automated sculpture work in the Henry Moore Sculpture Centre. Comprising a series of scripted vignettes, his installation Every day needs an urgent whistle blown into it uses moving sculptures, viewers' resting bodies, sound and light to create theatrical moments. Farmer is the 2013 recipient of The Gershon Iskowitz Prize, presented annually to an artist who has made an outstanding contribution to the visual arts in Canada. It includes a $50,000 cash prize and a solo installation at the AGO.
- The AGO animates the Chinatown Festival with artmaking activities created by community artist Alvis Choi. A special performance, Energy Dispersion for the Attraction of Good Spirits Project, organized by artist collective Mammalian Diving Reflex, features tai chi students from the neighbouring University Settlement, welcoming good spirits into the AGO.

- Alex Colville opens, the largest exhibition of the late artist's work to date. Organized by the Art Gallery of Ontario with the generous collaboration of the

APRIL 1, 2014 – MARCH 31, 2015

National Gallery of Canada, the show honours Colville's legacy with more than 100 works drawn from museums and private collections nationwide. The exhibition explores Colville's profound vision and significance through thematic pairings with the work of notable figures from popular contemporary culture, including filmmakers Sarah Polley, Stanley Kubrick, Wes Anderson and the Coen Brothers; artists Itee Pootoogook and Mary Pratt; and Nobel Prize in Literature winner author Alice Munro.

- Teachers across the GTA gather for a special information session on AGO exhibitions, collections and school group programs. Close to 1,600 educators participate in AGO events for teachers throughout the year.
- AGO Summer Art and Design Camp concludes another successful season, with 500 campers taking part in artmaking, games and creative play.

SEPTEMBER 2014

- The 2014 Aimia | AGO Photography Prize enters its seventh year as Canada's most significant award for contemporary photography. The works of four short-listed artists are featured: David Hartt (Canada); Elad Lassry (Israel/USA); Nandipha Mntambo (South Africa); and Lisa Oppenheim (USA). Through public vote, Lisa Oppenheim is selected as the 2014 winner. All four artists receive a cash award and six-week residencies at institutions across Canada. The 2014 Aimia | AGO Photography Prize also sees the introduction of a national scholarship program for undergraduate students studying photography. The AGO is proud to support a new generation of photographers through this innovative program.
- The AGO turns over its Instagram account to Toronto artist Pascal Paquette for a week. Paquette captures and shares images of street art and graffiti work, both commissioned and sanctioned, demonstrating Toronto's thriving street art community.
- School group visits start for the school year, with programs for linking to the Ontario Education

Curriculum for all elementary and secondary levels. A total of 38,362 students visit the AGO through school group programs in 2014-15.

OCTOBER 2014

- The exhibition Michelangelo: Quest for Genius opens, featuring 29 rare drawings from the Casa Buonarroti. Organized by the Associazione MetaMorfosi in collaboration with the Casa Buonarroti in Florence, Italy, and the AGO, the show reveals the story of Renaissance master Michelangelo Buonarroti and the challenges he faced in his creative process.
- Artist-in-residence Ame Henderson produces a 12-hour event for Scotiabank Nuit Blanche, entitled rehearsal/performance, featuring the often-invisible labour of creating dances and other kinds of performances for public viewing. Artists-in-residence during the year also include Greg Staats, Mammalian Diving Reflex and FAG Feminist Art Gallery. Each residency includes programming initiatives with the public and an installation at the AGO.
- The AGO partners with Art Toronto 2014 to organize the Opening Night Preview. More than $455,000 is raised, with proceeds from this fundraising event supporting the purchase of seven new contemporary works for the AGO's collection and ongoing education programs.
- AGO Free After Three program for youth hosts a 3-D printed jewellery-making workshop in partnership with the Textile Museum of Canada. Free After Three activities throughout the year also include circus arts, breakdancing, graffiti/aerosol artmaking and stop-motion animation.

Highlights of the Year

APRIL 1, 2014 – MARCH 31, 2015

NOVEMBER 2014

- Introducing Suzy Lake opens and is the first career-survey exhibition of the Canadian artist's work. Organized by the Art Gallery of Ontario, the show follows Lake's development over five decades through her photographs, videos and performances.

- AGO People's Choice is launched, inviting visitors to vote for their favourite artwork in the AGO's collection by taking a picture and sending it—either through email or Instagram. The AGO People's Choice Top 10 will be given special recognition in AGO's galleries.
- Students from Peel Lunch and After School Program (PLASP) spend their PA Day at the AGO, visiting gallery spaces and making their own artistic creations. More than 500 PLASP students visit the AGO in 2014–15.
- shopAGO's 2014 Holiday Gift Guide offers a collection of unique, elegant and practical items to help make the festive season even more special.

DECEMBER 2014

- American cartoonist and editor Art Spiegelman is profiled in the exhibition Art Spiegelman's CO-MIX: A Retrospective, presented at the AGO in collaboration with the Jewish Museum, New York. Works on display span the breadth of Spiegelman's career, with 300 works on paper ranging from trading cards to magazine covers.

- Organized by the Art Gallery of Ontario, a new pet-themed installation, Pets and Me: Explore, Imagine, Create, opens in the Kids' Gallery, featuring more than 20 works of art from the AGO's collection, along with a variety of multi-sensory activities.
- "AGO Gives Back" is launched. For its first year, this staff and volunteer charitable giving program undertakes an art supply drive for SKETCH, an organization that provides creative training for street-involved, homeless and at-risk youth to engage in the arts.

JANUARY 2015

- The exhibition Memory Unearthed: The Lodz Ghetto Photographs of Henryk Ross opens the same week as the world commemorates the 70th anniversary of the liberation of Auschwitz. Organized by the AGO, the show presents more than 200 indelible scenes that comprise a solemn meditation on a harrowing moment in history.
- An intimate evening of conversation is held with actor, writer, musician and art collector Steve Martin, and essayist and staff writer for The New Yorker Adam Gopnik, exploring the visionary, iconic paintings of Lawren S. Harris. Martin is guest-curating the exhibition The Idea of North: Paintings by Lawren S. Harris, coming to the AGO in 2016.
- The AGO celebrates the opening night of Villa Toronto, a roving city-to-city art event, with An Evening of Misery, a special live performance by Icelandic artists Ragnar Kjartansson and Davíð Þór Jónsson. Presented in partnership with i8 Gallery.

FEBRUARY 2015

- Jean-Michel Basquiat: Now's the Time opens, featuring more than 80 artworks. Organized by the Art Gallery of Ontario, this is the first major exhibition of the artist's work in Canada. The exhibition kicks off with a First Thursday event, featuring a performance by Grandmaster Flash and a panel discussion entitled "It Could Have Been Me: Perspectives on the Fight for Racial Justice and the Legacy of Jean-Michel Basquiat," presented in partnership with the Black Lives Matter Toronto Coalition.
- Los Angeles-based painter Silke Otto-Knapp is profiled in the exhibition Land lies in water. Organized by the AGO, this is the first major exhibition of the artist's work in North America, with 30 of her recent works ranging from barren ocean seascapes to sharply defined silhouettes of modern dancers.
- The popular KGO—Kids' Gallery of Ontario—returns for a Family Day filled with special artmaking activities and life-sized games.
- The AGO serves up nine days of drop-in March Break fun inspired by the art of Jean-Michel Basquiat. Activities include beat-box and dance performances/workshops, graffiti artmaking, rope-skipping demonstrations, interactive storytelling and family-friendly tours.
- The AGO's E.P. Taylor Research Library & Archives hosts a satellite event for the international Art+Feminism Wikipedia Edit-A-Thon. More than 70 editors participate in creating and expanding Wikipedia articles.
- The Gallery celebrates the 10th anniversary of its Community Membership program with an open house for its 180 partner organizations that serve marginalized individuals. The AGO's Community Membership program works with organizations across the GTA to eliminate barriers that prevent individuals from visiting the AGO.

NOTES

- The above statement of operations provides a summary of the AGO's financial activity for 2014-15 and 2013-14. Financial statements for the 2014-15 fiscal year (April 1, 2014 to March 31, 2015), audited by Ernst & Young, are available upon request from the Art Gallery of Ontario (Director's Office: 416 979 6613).
- In the 2014-15 fiscal year, the AGO received gifts of works of art with an approximate value of $244,787,000. This is not reflected in the financial data above, but is included in the AGO's 2014-15 audited financial statements.
- The AGO records capital asset purchases at cost and then amortizes its capital assets over the useful life of the asset. Donations and grants received for the purchase of capital assets are deferred and then amortized based on the useful life of the asset.
- Remeasurement related to pension plan is the difference between actual and expected return on pension plan assets. Additional details can be found in the AGO's 2014-15 audited financial statements.
